Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Friday 18 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Bright or sunny spells and scattered showers on Saturday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Dry through this evening with some bright or sunny spells. Chilly across Argyll overnight with some clear skies, but cloud increasing across much of the area with some patchy light rain or drizzle possible. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
A rather cloudy start with a few spots of rain. However, it will soon become brighter with sunny spells, although a scattering of showers developing in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A bright start on Sunday but cloud increasing with outbreaks of afternoon rain. Cloudy on Monday with occasional rain. The rain clears overnight to leave Tuesday dry with sunny spells.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.